"IKE" TOURS KEY WEST BASE—President Eisenhower, vacationing at Key West, Florida, and staying at the Naval Base there, takes his brother, Milton, on a tour of the base. In response to his doctors' urging, the Chief Executive agreed to a two-week work-and-play vacation in the warmer climate where he can spend more time out-of-doors.

Ike Relaxes Under Florida Sun; Re-Election, Retirement Uncertain

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower relaxed under the warm Florida sun at year's end today, still uncertain whether the new year ahead would move him toward a hot campaign for re-election or toward retirement.

His main concern as he soaked up the sun's rays and exercised vigorously remained the continuing battle for fuller recovery from the heart attack that made 1955 for him one of the more eventful years of an action-packed life.

Staff members in a position to know reported that he had not yet

Survey Shows Thousands Polio Shots Wasted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of Salk polio shots went to waste in the 1955 mass inoculation program, it was learned today.

State health authorities revealed in a nationwide United Press survey that enough serum to inoculate more than 35,000 children became "stale" before it was used. They blamed distribution mixups, the safety testing snafu this summer and other factors.

Most of this vaccine was earmarked for the school program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

More than 11,000 additional doses, it was learned, also have been returned to manufacturers since the start of the government's voluntary distribution program.

Says Record Good

Dr. G. Foard McGinness, vaccine director of the foundation, said he estimated vaccine losses this year wouldn't run more than 20,000 shots. But, he said even if the 35,000 figure is correct, it represents a "pretty good record."

"With all the clearing and re-clearing of vaccine this summer," he said, "it's surprising a lot more shots didn't become outdated and go unused."

At present, vaccine is declared outdated if it has not been used within a six-month period. In the United Press survey 32 states reported no waste, but 12 states reported losses ranging from "a little" to more than 13,000 shots.

Here is the breakdown of wasted shots:

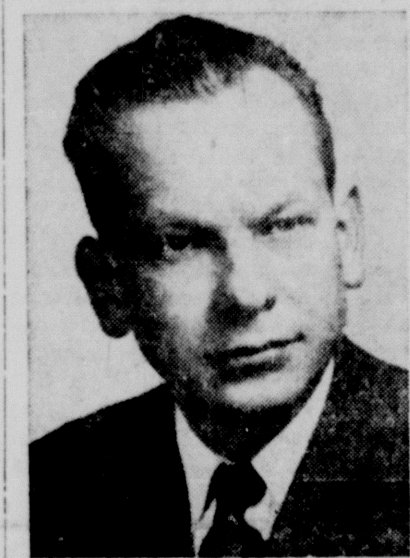

Oklahoma, 13,605; Pennsylvania, 10,000; Kentucky, 5,649; Ohio, 3,000; Alabama, "several thousand"; Nevada, 150; Texas, 18; Georgia and Louisiana, "some"; Florida, Tennessee and Virginia, "a little."

Predicts Ike Will Resign, Become TV Commentator

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—President Eisenhower will resign and become a television network commentator from his Gettysburg home, a columnist for the Indianapolis Times said today.

Mrs. Dorothy Stephens, radio and television columnist for the Scripps-Howard newspaper, wrote in a forecast of 1956 that the report about Mr. Eisenhower "comes from a responsible source in New York." Mrs. Stephens is the wife of Times Managing Editor J. Boyd Stephens.

Sen. Glen Jones Named to Atomic Power Commission

Sen. Glen O. Jones

State Senator Glen O. Jones, whose law offices are in Harrisburg, yesterday was appointed to a 12-member special legislative commission on atomic power by Gov. William G. Stratton.

The commission will investigate the economic and social impact that civilian use of atomic energy may have on Illinois residents.

Named to the commission were three state legislators, three representatives of industry, three from labor and three from science and technology. Sen. Jones was the only appointment from southern Illinois.

Members named: Legislators: Sen. George Darch (R-Springfield), Sen. Glen O. Jones (R-Harrisburg), and Rep. Harry D. Lavery (R-Chicago).

Industrial representatives: Henry C. Nickel and Titus L. Clair, both of Chicago, and Dr. Milton H. Kronenberg, Peoria.

Labor: Joseph D. Keenan, James S. Quinlan, and Samuel Smith, all of Chicago.

Science and technology: Dr. J. Robert Downing, Chicago, director of the Cook research laboratory; Dr. Holden Leedy, Western Springs, president of the board of Illinois Institute of Technology; and Dr. Robert J. Hastlerik, associate director of the Argonne Cancer Research Hospital at the University of Chicago.

Health Director Roland R. Cross, Welfare Director Otto L. Bettag and Civil Defense Director Robert M. Woodward are ex-officio members of the commission.

WCTU Recipe for New Year's Eve Cocktail

CHICAGO (AP)—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union today came up with this recipe for a New Year's Eve cocktail:

Fill tall glass with crushed ice. Pour in one-third glass lemonade syrup, add five drops green vegetable coloring. Add another third of syrup, five drops of blue coloring. Then add a final third of lemonade syrup and five to 10 drops of red coloring. Top with a pineapple cube, maraschino cherry and a sprig of mint on a toothpick.

Sam Seely, 73, resident of Old Shawneetown, died early this morning at the Pearce hospital at Eldorado. The body is at the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown and funeral plans are incomplete.

Receives 7-14 Years for Killing Corporal

Paul E. Cheney
Pleads Guilty to Slaying On Oct. 20

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Paul E. Cheney, 58, Winnetka cemetery and monument firm owner, Friday was sentenced to 7-to-14 years in prison after he pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Circuit Judge Charles E. Keller pronounced sentence for the Oct. 20 pistol slaying of Army Cpl. William H. Schroeder, 22, Chicago. Champaign County State's Atty. John J. Bresce accepted the plea of guilty to manslaughter. He said there was not sufficient evidence to gain a verdict of murder.

Bresce said Cheney was drunk when he shot the corporal and there was no premeditation. Schroeder was trying to stop Cheney from driving a car to Springfield.

The shooting occurred in the driveway of Maurice Bauman, former Champaign-Urbana realtor and savings and loan agent, now serving a prison sentence for fraud in federal housing loans.

Cheney had gone to the home to tell Mrs. Bauman he would offer her husband a job so he could get a parole when eligible. Schroeder and his wife were also friends of the Baumans.

Cheney's attorney, Robert G. Heckenkamp, Springfield, told the court Cheney had consumed three drinks of whiskey and one-half of a fifth of vodka before his decision to drive to Springfield.

Cheney had been in trouble over drunken driving before. In 1953 he was stopped after a wild chase over city streets by police in Springfield. He then tried to run down a police officer who alighted to approach his car.

Other policemen beat him severely in subduing him and Cheney claimed his civil rights were violated. The case was dropped after city and federal investigations.

Dionne Family Has Reunion With 3 Quints

CALLANDER, Ont. (AP)—The troubled Dionne family today assured the world that "a misunderstanding" had been patched up, but new clouds appeared over an otherwise happy reunion.

Three of the four surviving quintuplets arrived at the family mansion Friday for a joyous New Year's reunion and the quint and their parents promptly issued a statement saying "everything has been forgiven and forgotten."

"We all discussed this trouble we have been having and now feel it was all due to a misunderstanding," said the statement signed by Annette, Cecile and Yvonne and their parents. Marie did not make the 400-mile trip because she still is recovering from anemia.

"There was a misunderstanding somewhere and it now has been roned out. We all seem to understand each other much better now. Everybody feels happy about the reconciliation," the statement said.

But, a family friend said the girls were worried about their father's health, a possible factor in the girls' "emergency" trip home.

Dionne, who is reported to have a heart condition, has been undergoing treatment for high blood pressure. Officials at North Bay Hospital said he also had come by several times recently for heart examinations.

Although the 21-year-old quint will be 400 miles from home when they return to their Montreal apartment, they are well protected from potential fortune seekers, a friend of the family said.

He said the trust funds set up following the girls' 21st birthdays last May are "virtually irrevocable." Each of the girls has an estimated $250,000 in trust.

HOPE HURT IN FAIR FALL

Comedian Bob Hope has been known to fly high, but never higher than he did on this occasion—diving off the shoulders of British strong girl Joan Rhodes during a Christmas Show for Air Force personnel at an Iceland base. Photo shows Hope heading for the stage as Miss Rhodes loses her grip. The comedian suffered minor head injuries. Portions of the holiday show will appear on Hope's network TV show.

Eisenhower Pledge for 'Peaceful Liberation' Places Moscow on Defensive

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's newest pledge to work for the "peaceful liberation" of Iron Countries has put Moscow on the defensive, administration officials said today.

They said the current advantage in the East-West propaganda fight over the satellites clearly shifted to the United States in less than a week.

The American-Russian fight was influenced by Christmas messages from Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to Iron Curtain nations. The messages, broadcast the day before Christmas, expressed hope and conviction that the satellites would escape bondage and join the free nations.

In an unusual outburst, Soviet Party boss Nikita Khrushchev on Thursday assailed Mr. Eisenhower personally for "crude interference" in the affairs of Communist nations in a way "quite incompatible with the Geneva spirit."

Mr. Eisenhower at Key West, Fla., Friday approved a statement pointedly aimed at Khrushchev's attack. It said the "spirit of Geneva" involved no relaxing of America's "peaceful purpose" to achieve liberty and justice for the oppressed peoples of the world.

The statement, read by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, said "the peaceful liberation of the captive peoples has been, is, and, until success is achieved, will continue to be a major goal of United States foreign policy."

Some experts believed the Red chiefs, who have been talking so much lately about "colonialism and imperialism," may have a "guilt complex" about their iron-fisted control over the Iron Curtain countries.

Khrushchev's quick crack at Mr. Eisenhower also indicated the extreme sensitivity the Russian leaders have on the satellite question.

Gen. Marshall Celebrates His 75th Birthday

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall celebrated his 75th birthday quietly at his winter home here today receiving congratulatory messages from throughout the free world.

As former Army chief of staff, secretary of defense, winner of the Nobel Peace prize and author of an international plan for free-world unity, Marshall was greeted by leaders of many nations.

Among the flood of felicitations was a telegram which President Eisenhower sent Friday night from his vacation headquarters at the Key West, Fla., naval base.

Mr. Eisenhower congratulated Marshall on his "brilliant career of service to our country."

Marshall received other greetings from such U. S. public figures as former President Truman and former Secretary of State James E. Byrnes, and a personal message came from Prime Minister Anthony Eden of Great Britain.

The Voice of America immediately broadcast the statement to Russia and Eastern Europe.

The President, Dulles and other high administration leaders were reported highly pleased that Khrushchev has reacted—and so quickly—to the Christmas messages. His reaction, experts said, would get the American attitude on the satellites far more publicity behind the Iron Curtain than this country had ever hoped to achieve.

Khrushchev's quick crack at Mr. Eisenhower also indicated the extreme sensitivity the Russian leaders have on the satellite question.

Count Shows 38 Dead as Holiday Begins

One of the biggest safety campaigns in the nation's history appeared to be holding down traffic deaths on the start of the New Year's Holiday today.

The United Press count starting at 6 p. m. Friday night showed that 38 persons had met death on the streets and highways. There were 3 deaths in fires and 4 in miscellaneous accidents for a holiday total of 45. At a corresponding hour during the Christmas holiday the traffic deaths had reached 85.

Across the nation, a small army of police and National Guardsmen waged war against death. Their assignment was to prove the forecast of a record-breaking 420 traffic deaths by midnight Monday wrong.

However, the hours of greatest dangers were still to come. The death rate was expected to pick up rapidly tonight, when hordes of merry-makers will welcome in the New Year by drinking too much and then trying to drive home.

By mid-morning Saturday, California and Ohio led with 5 traffic deaths each and Michigan and New York had 4 each. New Hampshire and South Dakota, which reported no traffic deaths during the Christmas weekend, were among the first to report New Year's auto fatalities.

If the National Safety Council's prediction of 420 New Year's dead proves true, it will mean that more than five Americans will die in smash-ups during every hour of the 78-hour holiday.

It will also mean an all-time record for New Year's slaughter—five above the record 415 traffic deaths counted over the 1952 holiday.

Only one week ago, the nation set an all-time, all-holiday traffic death record of 621 during the three-day Christmas holiday. It was this staggering total which aroused today's all-out, no-holds-barred drive to save lives.

Uniformed National Guardsmen left their homes for the holidays and aided state police in Louisiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Arizona, Michigan, and Tennessee. In Tennessee, Louisiana, Kansas and Illinois, they were aided by planes which kept a sky patrol for dangerous drivers.

Police forces across the nation were beefed up to their top force and efficiency. Leaves were cancelled and shifts were lengthened to as long as 18 hours. Pennsylvania reported an "unprecedented" force of 1,200 state troopers on the roads, Indiana had a record-breaking 420, and Texas ordered public safety inspectors to go on the roads.

Tennessee, waging one of the most intense battles against highway slaughter, put 1,000 volunteer guardsmen, 200 guard jeeps, and ambulances on the highways. About 200 of the guardsmen were stationed on Memphis' outskirts to warn motorists to drive safely.

In Chicago, which posted the worst metropolitan death record over Christmas, bartenders and night club owners were warned not to let any tipsy customers try to drive home.

"Don't even fetch their cars for them," Traffic Chief Michael A. Ahern ordered. "Instead, stow them in taxis."

Chicago and other cities also planned to turn policemen into chauffeurs if necessary to get holiday celebrants home safely. Many police departments set up coffee tureens in their station houses, inviting motorists to have the last drink on them so long as it was java.

There was evidence some of the auxiliary police, who are not bound by orders as are the National Guardsmen, were reluctant to give up their holiday. Springfield Dist. Police Commander Thomas L. O'Connor said none of the auxiliaries on the district roster would agree to patrol New Year's Eve.

State policemen worked 12-hour shifts instead of normal 8-hour treks, and the guardsmen and auxiliaries were expected to also stay on patrol for this length of time. The maximum patrolling will be done early tonight, with gradually fewer patrols during the night.

Hubby Grins as Triplets Give Him 3 More Tax Deductions

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Samec looked today at the day-old triplets his wife gave birth to a week prematurely and grinned.

"Look at that. Another $1,800 right there," he said.

Since the two girls and a boy were born before Jan. 1, Samec can claim a $600 deduction for each on his 1955 income tax.

He has six other children 17 and under, bringing his total exemptions for children to $5,400. With the deductions allowed for himself and his wife, Dorothy, he can have an income of $6,800 plus general deductions before owing anything to Uncle Sam.

Samec is employed as a laborer.

Patrol Illinois Highways to Avoid High Toll

A small army of policemen and National Guardsmen fought a battle against death on Illinois streets and highways today, but there was at least one traffic fatality in the state.

The first reported casualty was Anker Olson, a 39-year-old pedestrian who was struck down by a car in Chicago early today.

Two 17-year-old boys from Warren, Ill., met death in Wisconsin early today. The youths, Loren Steigner and Ernest Groszlauser, were killed 15 miles across the state line and six miles south of Gratiot, Wis., when their car hit a tree on Wis. 78.

Three other Warren teenagers were injured in the smashup.

Planes Patrol Skies

More than 100 National Guardsmen joined the full force of Illinois state police in patrolling the roads. Six planes from the Illinois Department of Aeronautics patrolled the skies.

Gov. William Stratton, appalled by the 47 persons killed in Illinois during the Christmas weekend, declared a state of limited emergency. His order calling out guardsmen was the first of its kind in state history.

The guardsmen were armed with .45 caliber and wore white helmets. They had full powers of arrest.

The target of the all-out campaign was the Chicago Motor Club's prediction of 17 traffic fatalities in Illinois between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Monday—8 in Chicago, 3 in the remainder of Cook County, and 6 downstate. Authorities' grim purpose was to prove this forecast wrong.

About 120 auxiliary civil defense police attached to the state police force volunteered for patrol duty. This was considerably less than the 200 to 300 the governor predicted would be used.

There was evidence some of the auxiliary police, who are not bound by orders as are the National Guardsmen, were reluctant to give up their holiday. Springfield Dist. Police Commander Thomas L. O'Connor said none of the auxiliaries on the district roster would agree to patrol New Year's Eve.

NEW UNIFORM TRAFFIC TICKET will be used by State Highway Police in Illinois beginning Jan. 1. Special feature of the ticket is the space provided for describing the violation. Listed are six top violations that cause accidents. They need only be checked by the officer. Other check marks can be used to specify degree of violation. A blank space is provided for all other violations. One copy goes to the violator; another copy, the complaint, goes before the judge. If there is a finding of guilty, a copy is sent to the secretary of state's office to become a permanent part of the driver's record. If he gets too many convictions, a driver may lose his license. A fourth copy goes to local police files. The state is urging every law enforcement agency to adopt the Uniform Traffic Ticket for its own use as soon as possible.

Calves Must Have Fresh Air

Well-ventilated quarters and deep, dry bedding are the keys to preventing pneumonia in both beef and dairy calves, declares Dr. R. D. Hatch of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine.

Dr. Hatch says that periods of damp weather followed by sharp drops in temperature are times of danger for calves. If acute pneumonia sets in, a calf may die rather quickly.

The veterinarian says that cases of calf pneumonia have been frequent in the area covered by the college's ambulatory veterinary clinical service. To prevent pneumonia, he stresses the need to keep calf barns clean, dry and well-ventilated. Fans will help to improve ventilation in barns.

Other preventive measures are daily exercise outdoors if weather permits, and proper, regular feeding.

All newborn calves should receive an ample amount of colostrum or first milk as soon as possible. After that, you should pre-milk the cow to prevent overfeeding when the calf nurses. Over-feeding may cause scours, an upset that is often followed by pneumonia.

If calves appear sluggish and you suspect that they have pneumonia, check their temperatures. If a calf's temperature reaches 103 degrees or more, call a veterinarian.

It is hard to check the spread of pneumonia when several calves in a herd become infected. Early diagnosis and early treatment are of primary importance in curing the disease.

Midwest Topsoil In Danger of Blowing Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department warns that about 20 million acres of drought-stricken topsoil in the Midwest is in condition to be blown away this winter and next spring.

However, the department said this is an improvement since this time last year when 26 million acres was in condition to be blown away. The department estimates were as of Dec. 1.

Land actually damaged during last season totaled about 16 million acres.

A department official pointed out the report on land conditions, released Thursday, is merely preliminary and could change greatly, depending upon weather and other conditions.

The preliminary report said land conditions for the southern Great Plains, where drought and dust storms were the rule last winter and spring, showed 16,400,000 acres were in bad condition. This is 3,300,000 acres less than for Dec. 1, 1954.

More than 100 varieties of green-house chrysanthemums have been developed at the University of Illinois and introduced to the florist industry in the past 47 years.

Study of Dairy Herd Improvement Association records shows that high-producing cows are the only ones dairymen can afford to own.

Illinois 4-H'ers Win National Honors

SIX Illinois 4-H Club members were announced as national winners in 1955 4-H award programs at the 34th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Each of the winners received a $200 college scholarship. Their names, the programs in which they were honored, and the donors of their awards are:

January will be Egg Month in Illinois and the nation's other 47 states.

The year's calendar is becoming crowded with a growing list of special days, weeks, and months—all designed to direct public attention to some special event, cause, or product. Egg Month is a good addition to the list. In fact, this is the fourth year for January Egg Month, bespeaking success for the idea.

Charles Merritt Forrest, III, is chairman of the Illinois committee responsible for telling the "good egg" story in an appealing manner throughout January's 31 days. Serving with him are representatives of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, the Illinois State Division of Markets, the Illinois Restaurant Association, the Illinois Poultry Industry Council, and others.

The Illinois program will dovetail with a national effort to impress consumers with the importance of eggs in the diet. Retailers will feature eggs through displays, attractive posters, and advertising. Newspaper editors will be supplied with a steady stream of releases on the campaign and with food page material featuring new and attractive ways to use eggs. Advertising campaigns will be organized. Radio listeners and television fans will hear about eggs.

January Egg Month is important to farmers. Poultrymen indicate that this is the month when egg prices usually start a yearly decline. Farmers who keep laying flocks and use good management practices want to start chicks for their laying chickens early—between January and March—so that pullets will begin laying during the summer and be in good production during the higher price periods of fall and early winter. By January total egg production is higher, and the market begins to reflect the depressing effect of heavy supplies.

Consequently, the poultry industry has taken January as the target month for selling more eggs and keeping a surplus off the market. If every consumer can be influenced to eat just a few more eggs the problem of surpluses will not arise and farmers may have that much better opportunity to realize a profit from their laying flocks. Egg production is becoming increasingly important in Illinois farm income.

January is a good month for egg quality. By then flocks have been in production long enough to get small eggs out of the way. Hens naturally lay larger eggs in cold weather, too. Hence, the housewife is able to purchase larger eggs in January at a fair price.

Eggs are good food any day in the year. No one ought to start the day without an appetizingly prepared egg or two for breakfast. They provide food elements needed for today's fast working pace. Eggs contain an abundance of vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that is important in winter diets. Also present is a large supply of protein in a complete form that is easily converted to body tissue.

A University of Illinois meats specialist believes that cattle feeders are trying to put too much finish on choice and prime grades of beef today. The result is a cut in their profits and extra waste for meat packers.

Most losses in sheep and cattle from overeating result from starting them too fast on grain, says a University of Illinois veterinarian.

A mature ewe of average size and condition at breeding time should gain 25 to 30 pounds before she lambs.

Keep Domestic Markets, U. I. Expert Advises

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A farm economist says American markets offer great opportunities for improving the sale of farm products.

L. H. Simerl of the University of Illinois said in his regular Illinois Farmers' Outlook Letter that the domestic markets for butter, pork and lamb appear to have slipped away almost imperceptibly.

"If we had paid more attention to keeping the markets we once had," he said, "we would not now be so hard pressed to get them back or to find new ones."

"And if we make an effort to keep the markets we have now," he added, "we will not have to work so hard to find new ones in the future."

He said that if butter, now being consumed at the rate of 9 pounds per person per year, were restored to its pre-war level of 17 pounds per person, the shift would require 17 per cent more milk than is now being produced.

Pork purchases, which before 1930 took 3 per cent of consumer income, now take 2 per cent. Simerl said the one-third reduction was due to production control and price support for corn and to the failure of farmers to produce the lean meat animals consumers prefer.

Hybrid Corn Will Be Some Better

URBANA—Don't look for any radical changes in hybrid seed corn during the next few years.

R. W. Jugenheimer, crops specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says it is becoming more and more difficult to develop new hybrids that are superior in all ways to the better ones now in use in the Corn Belt.

Jugenheimer says it should be possible, however, to greatly improve hybrids adapted to other areas of the country and to many parts of the world.

Today's hybrids will be gradually improved to include more suitable types of corn for industry, higher yielding grain, silage and fodder corn and still better standability and resistance to diseases, insects and drought.

The 1956 hybrids may be better suited for machine harvesting than some of today's strains. Some other traits that may be added to future hybrids, according to Jugenheimer, are higher chemical makeup, better husk cover, better grain quality, higher shelling percentage and resistance to chemical weed sprays.

Detasseling corn for hybrid seed production may be a thing of the past by 1965. Jugenheimer predicts that male sterility and pollen restorers will do away with most hand detasseling. These new methods should lower production costs and result in a better product.

Piper is Still The Top Sudan

Piper outranks all other Sudan varieties in producing usable pasture, hay or silage per acre, according to research at the University of Illinois.

Preliminary investigation by A. W. Burger of the Department of Agronomy indicates that as much as 17 tons of silage may be produced per acre. Piper did produce 6.8 tons of hay in three cuttings or 4.2 tons of usable pasture per acre in six rotational grazings last summer.

Burger points out that some livestock producers believe that Piper is not so palatable as sweet Sudan for grazing. However, it does produce more tonnage and for this reason is more desirable for silage or hay.

Under central Illinois conditions Piper is resistant to disease that cuts yields of other Sudans. Wheelers Sudan is highly susceptible, causing lower production of forage during the critical hot August days.

Big Demand for Veterinary Students

URBANA—High school seniors seeking college training in a professional field where jobs are plentiful will find a big demand for veterinarians to help protect the nation's public health and huge livestock industry.

Dr. Robert Graham, dean of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine, says the college receives notices of about twice as many job openings as there are graduates to fill them.

Employment for veterinarians ranges from private practice to jobs in research, in the meat-processing industry and in all types of government health services. The "vigilance of veterinarians" is needed to keep meat production climbing, declares Dean Graham.

Veterinary medicine is a six-year course. Two years of preparatory work at any accredited college are required before enrollment in the four-year professional training in a veterinary college.

Graduate veterinarians must be able to diagnose, treat and control both animal and poultry diseases, as well as know about animal diseases that attack human beings.

The University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine, gives preference to Illinois residents, but out-of-state students are accepted if there is room. A new veterinary science building finished in 1952 and a new large animal clinic built this year have greatly improved professional training facilities.

A high school senior, especially one with farm background and experience with animals, who is interested in becoming a "vet," should rank in the upper half of his class and have these credits: English, 3 units; language, 2 units; and algebra and geometry, 1 unit each.

You can get further information about veterinary medicine training by writing to Dean Robert Graham, College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

As the winter season nears its official opening, the hours of daylight continue to be shortened. As the hours of darkness increase, so do the hazards of nighttime driving.

Statistics show that on a "mil-age" basis there are more highway fatalities during the winter (when there are more hours of darkness) than during the summer. Figures also reveal that on a "mileage" basis there are approximately three times as many highway deaths during the hours of darkness than there are during daylight hours.
Although there are fewer miles driven during the hours of darkness, three out of every five fatal accidents occur after dark.

There are a number of help out down on the ways of death after dark.
For one thing, take proper care of your headlights as an improperly directed headlight may blind the driver of an oncoming vehicle and is of little use to you. Make sure that your speed at night is reasonable and safe and that you do not "overdrive" your lights.

Pedestrians can help the driver,
too. Whenever possible, pedestrians should cross streets only at crosswalks where they are protected by stop signs or signals. They should also walk well to the left of the road, facing the oncoming traffic, when there are no sidewalks.
A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request.
Write to CHARLES F. CARPEN-TIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Soviet Chief Warns H-Warfare Is Possible

MOSCOW AP—Soviet Premier
Nikolai Bulganin warned today H-bomb warfare is possible even though both East and West possess these weapons of mass destruction.
The Soviet Premier sounded his warning in a question and answer interview with the American Television Company.

He said the possibility of thermonuclear war between East and West was not "automatically excluded" by the fact that both sides possess atomic and hydrogen bombs.

In his replies to a series of questions submitted by the agency, Bulganin expressed hope for peace in the new year. But, he warned:
Says War Not Excluded

"It is wrong to assert that inasmuch as East and West possess hydrogen weapons the possibility of a thermonuclear war is automatically excluded."

"Assertions of this kind can in fact lull the vigilance of peoples who support the elimination of the threat of an atomic war."

Bulganin added: "Of course, the fact that under present conditions atomic and hydrogen weapons cannot be used with impunity has some deterrent effect on those circles which would like to unleash war, using weapons of mass annihilation."

Ban War By Control

The Premier said that the only way to prevent a thermonuclear war was the "unconditional banning of atomic and thermonuclear weapons, the establishment of effective international control and the implementation of the related decisions on this question."

Pfc. Richard L. Gidcomb, who is serving in the Marines, finished his communication electronics schooling at San Diego, Calif., and has been home spending a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gidcomb. He left today for Camp Pemberton, Calif., and from there will go overseas.

Archbishop Dies in England

YORK, England AP—Cyril F. Gar-bett, 80-year-old archbishop of York and second-ranking prelate of the Church of England, died here early today after a prolonged illness.

Members of the archbishop's household said his death was "peaceful." Funeral services will be held here early next week.

Garbett, who had been an Anglican churchman for 55 years, was known for his readiness to express pungent opinions on secular matters. He stirred up a storm two years ago by charging that "the Jewish vote in New York" was to blame for the United Nations' inability to pacify the Middle East.

Congressional districts of Texas have not been reapportioned since 1933.

Montana Man World Champ Liar With Tall Tale of Whimsical Wind

BURLINGTON, Wis. AP—Claude
T. Yerkes of Kalispell, Mont., today became the world champion liar with a tall tale about a whimsical wind.

Yerkes will be awarded custody of the Burlington Liars Club "genuine imitation diamond studded gold plated" world's champion liars medal for the next year.

He won the title with the following compound fracture of the truth:

"A sheepherder who lived in a small trailer house had his provisions brought out by the owner of the sheep. On this particular occasion, the provisions included a 100-pound sack of flour for which there was no room in the trailer, so the herder drove a couple of stout nails in the wall and hung the sack of flour on them, just outside the trailer door."

"In 1933, it was so dry out there that I saw little children cry constantly for three weeks without shedding a tear. They couldn't."

Announce Entrance Tests For St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing

Dates of entrance examinations for St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing, 5535 Delmar boulevard, St. Louis, have been announced by Miss Ruth L. Lanfersick, director of the school. The school will have openings for girls who will have finished high school by next September 13, when the fall term opens.

The tests will be given at the school at 9 a. m. on January 21,
February 18, March 17, April 21,
May 19, and June 16. Descriptive booklets telling of the school may be obtained free by writing Miss Lanfersick. Faculty advisers of high school groups planning nursing careers are invited to arrange visits to the school. Dates for which inspection tours and teas are being arranged at the school will be sent on request.

FREE-WHEELING TOT — Fifteen-month-old Laurel Melton glides down the street on her new skates. This she does while many of her contemporaries are still learning to walk. The Fresno, Calif., youngster learned to walk when she was 10 months old.

Naish was aware of that, yet his persistent thought was to kill and get oil. He veered the boat along-side a sleek, placid cow and Albe-marle Morrow struck twice. The line sang once more, the boat rushed merrily over the sea, and for the time given them they sat relaxed and rubbed their aching muscles, welcomed the spray and the whale-given breeze.

Naish made the second kill. Messrs. Wilson, Finnie and Company were doing very well. Four whales beside his own two bore the whiffs that marked them as prizes. So kill again.

Naish stood and surveyed the herd. Three beasts were left, and all of them held the butts of broken and abandoned harpoons in their flanks. Mr. Wilson backed his boat off; he was wildly cursing his crew for cowardice. Mr. Finnie's boat was waterlogged, nearly down to the gunw

THE SANDS OF TIME

Remember that old song which says, "the sands of time are sinking fast"? Whether we like the idea or not, it is most certainly true, and there is nothing we can do about it.

Nothing? That depends on what we mean. Assuredly we can do nothing to stop the sands of time from running through the hour glass of life, but we can do much to make those hours worthwhile, and the Church stands ever ready to help us.

The Church is made up of people like us, working together to spread the message of the gospel. The Church brings comfort to those who sorrow, gives strength to those who are weak. The Church needs us to help carry on its work. When we are busy in the Church helping others, we do not worry over the ceaseless flow of the sands of time.

Are you doing your part in the Church? Do you need its help? Its doors are open, its welcome unchanging. "The sands of time are sinking fast"—how are you spending the days and hours?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Jesus Rebukes Insincerity'

Luke 11:29-44
GOLDEN TEXT: "He that is not with me is against me." (Luke 11:23)

INTRODUCTION — HAPPY NEW YEAR! I do hope that this will be the very best year of your whole life. New Year's Day comes on Sunday this year. What a wonderful privilege you have of starting the New Year right by being in God's House this Sunday!

One of the very best ways to improve your days, weeks and months ahead is in this matter of sincerity. There is a lack of sincerity on every hand. A young married man joined the church recently. After he was baptized, he has never returned to a single one of the church's services. He has proven his insincerity by his actions. He did not mean it when he said, "I take Christ as my Savior." He was insincere, when he said, "I will follow Him the rest of my life."

This young man is pressed on every side by problems of life. These problems are still with him. Why? Because he was not sincere in dealing with Christ. Instead of taking his burdens to Christ and leaving them there, he made an outward pretense of accepting Christ. Christ always rebukes insincerity.

I NO "SIGNS" NEEDED

(V. 29-32)
One day the disciples listened to Jesus pray. So sincere was his prayer that they requested Him to teach them to pray. They knew that Jesus had been in the very presence of the Father as He prayed. Jesus answered their request, and we have today, "the Lord's Prayer," (V. 24).

Immediately after that, Jesus healed a dumb man by causing an evil spirit to leave him. The man could speak after that.

The people "were gathered thick together." They demanded a "sign" before they would believe on Jesus as the promised Messiah. They already had their sign and were not sincere enough to recognize it. They were not sincere. So it is with many today.

II LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE

(V. 33-36)

You would not think of covering the lights in your home so that they could not give forth light. It is just as absurd for a Christian to hide the light of Christ that is within himself.

An alley that was always dark was extremely well lighted one day. Upon investigation, it was found that a business house had erected a new, highly polished sign across the street from the alley. The sun was shining directly down the alley. The darkness of the alley was driven away by the light.

Just so, Christians are to reflect the light of Christ and drive the darkness of this world out.

III KEEP YOUR VESSEL CLEAN INSIDE

(V. 37-41)

One of the Pharisees invited Jesus home with him to dine. Perhaps he wished to continue the discussion. Now, those Pharisees made much of outward cleanliness. They washed before just about everything they did. (They wash over there today just before entering into their temples.)

Jesus sat down to eat without going through with this ceremonial washing. (You can be sure that his hands were clean.) Jesus fired a shot at the Pharisees here that can be heard to this day: "Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness."

They were making an outward show of religion while inwardly they were black with sin. This is hypocrisy. It is insincerity at its worst.

CONCLUSION — BE SINCERE

(V. 42-44)
Here Jesus is making a plea for sincerity. They believed that to walk on, or step over, a grave made them unclean. They had to wash ceremonially to be rid of this uncleanness. Jesus compared them to the graves, and said that because of their insincerity, they were causing others to be unclean spiritually.

Let us be sincere. Let us never be a stumbling block in the way of others. Let out first resolution for the New Year be: "I will be sincere in my devotion to Christ."

Pinckneyville Wins Tourney At Centralia

Panthers Beat Herrin, 51-50, To Capture Title

By United Press
Pinckneyville, Mount Vernon, Chicago, Tilden Tech, Sycamore, Joliet Catholic, East St. Louis, Charleston and Ottawa Marquette were among the champions crowned as Illinois high school basketball tournaments ended Friday night.

Pinckneyville's poised Panthers grabbed another of their frog-hair victories by defeating Herrin 51-50 at the Centralia tournament. The Panthers, rated the state's top team before the holiday period, have been beaten only by West Frankfort while winning eight times.

To get to the finals, Pinckneyville whipped Collinsville 52-40 while Herrin ran away from Belleville 87-45. Collinsville took third place from Belleville 84-57.

Host Rams Squeak By
Mount Vernon, host at the Egyptian tournament, also won a thriller, nipping Edwardsville 80-79. The Tigers' Manny Jackson got 32 points, six more than Mount Vernon's high scorer, Graham, but the Rams held on for the crown. Mount Vernon now has a 9-3 record.

Tilden Tech made its downstate venture a success by capturing the Paris trophy 73-59 from Mount Pulaski. The Tech boys played a different brand of basketball from their game in losing to Paris 61-40 in an early season contest.

In the semifinals, Mount Pulaski had ousted Paris 79-70.

Sycamore avenged a 64-57 loss to De Kalb Dec. 20 by whipping the Barbs for the De Kalb tournament crown 69-59.

Joliet Catholic looked like a

Flyers Whip Johnston City

East St. Louis took its own tournament title 60-51 against Johnston City. The Flyers, losers only to Collinsville, have won eight times.

Ottawa Marquette also won the event for which it was host, rapping Mendota 66-45. De Pue edged Princeton in overtime 66-64 for third place.

Another host winner was Charleston, blasting Robinson 64-51. The Trojans have now lost only two of 11 games.

In non-tournament play, Rockford West, 1955 champions and currently ranked second behind Pinckneyville, whipped Peoria Central 67-52. In another game between Peoria and Rockford schools at Rockford, Rockford East defeated Peoria Manual 73-54.

California Romps to 70-45 Win Over Iowa

By United Press
If Iowa Basketball Coach Bucky O'Connor was disgusted with his Hawkeyes before their game Friday night with California, he was even more put out with them today.

O'Connor didn't use a single starter in the second half of the game at Berkeley and the score, 70-45, reflected Iowa's futility as California romped to victory.

Two other Big Ten teams fared no better, however. Unbeaten Stanford trounced Wisconsin, 65-63, and Michigan State took its first loss of the season, bowing to George Washington, 65-62.

Michigan was the only conference winner, bounding back from a four-point halftime deficit to edge out 11th-ranked Brigham Young, 80-79.

Never a Chance
Iowa's basketball fortunes on the West Coast never looked darker as they tried to hold off California. After losing two straight in the West, the fifth-ranked Hawkeyes prayed for at least one victory. But they never had a chance against Cal.

The best Iowa could do was tie the score in the first three minutes. Then California took over, racing to a 33-17 halftime lead while the Hawkeye starters could connect on only four out of 22 shots from the floor.

Wisconsin and Michigan State turned in more respectable performances. The Badgers made it a close race in the earlier stages, but trailed by 12 points at halftime. Center Dick Miller, the game's high scorer with 20, dropped in four straight baskets to make the score 39-31. But the Indians pulled away for good after that.

Irish Win in Sugar Bowl
At College Park, Md., Jack Jolly dunked two straight field goals in the last two minutes to win for George Washington over the Spartans, 65-62.

Michigan also had its troubles, trailing 43-39, at halftime. But the Wolverines in fighting back, led by center Ron Kramer with his eight field goals and 10 out of 15 free throw connections.

Brigham Young had led from the first few seconds until the final five minutes. But the Wolverines went ahead at that point and were never headed.

Another Midwest team, Notre Dame, also pulled a come-from-behind victory. Paced by the shooting of forward John Smyth and guard Robert Devine, the Irish shot ahead in the last seven minutes to beat Utah, 70-65, and win the Sugar Bowl Basketball tournament championship.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Another year is nearly gone. Come 12 o'clock tonight and 1955 will bow out and along will come 1956.

BUT we are still in the midst of the present basketball season. We have just completed what is known as the holiday tournament season and there is still lots of basketball to be played. The regular schedules will go right to the end of February and then comes the IHSA tournaments.

As fans let's look back and review the season to date. Have we been loyal fans? Loyal to the spirit of the game? Or have we been loyal only to the Goddess of Victory?

There were three holiday tournaments in which we fans in this area were especially interested—the Egyptian tourney at Mt. Vernon, the Equality Invitational tourney and the four-team tourney held at Metropolis. Shawneetown walked off with honors at Equality and Eldorado copped the championship at Metropolis. The two local area teams entered at Mt. Vernon—Harrisburg and Carrier Mills—bowed out in the first round of play.

Tournaments are wonderful, but there is one SURE thing. There can be only ONE winner.

Instead of "moaning and groaning" about past losses, let's all look forward to the rest of the season. And get the proper perspective.

We say "Let's go to the basketball game." Then when we get there, too often forget that it was a game. We think of it as a world-shattering, history-changing event.

It couldn't have been so very important because in a year or two we will have completely forgotten the score—even the winner.

Of course it isn't pleasant to lose—but it sure isn't a disgrace. For every winner there is a loser. That's the way the ball bounces.

Next week all teams get back on regular schedule. Watch this column Tuesday for a "you pick 'em." Took a vacation from our game while the holiday tournaments were being played, but will get back on the regular schedule with the teams.

Just a reminder! A top notch evening of entertainment is scheduled for Davenport gym. Harrisburg, starting at 8 o'clock tonight. The Harlem Globetrotters are the feature attraction. It will be a fine attraction and is for a good cause. Sponsored locally by the group of Harrisburg men trying to get a lighted baseball park for our youth. Seems like a safe and sane and enjoyable way to spend New Year's Eve.

Happy New Year!

San Francisco Dons End Triumphant Tour, Win Holiday Festival in N. Y.

By United Press
The San Francisco Dons end a triumphant basketball tour tonight when they fly back to the West Coast and, fortified by some home cooking, they figure to set a major college record for consecutive victories Jan. 28 by whipping California.

San Francisco, featuring All-America center Bill Russell and a strong supporting cast, climaxed its gruelling coast-to-coast journey Friday night by winning the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden. The Dons posted an easy, 70-53 victory over UCLA, with Russell collecting the tournament's most valuable player award.

The Dons began the tour as the nation's No. 1 team and swept seven games and two tournament crowns to emerge from the welter of holiday competition with added stature and a 36-game winning streak. San Francisco has home games with Pepperdine, Santa Clara and Fresno State in January before invading Berkeley for the game with California that should make it the first major team to win 40 straight.

Two Share Record
Long Island University and Seton Hall share the current major college high of 39.

Notre Dame, Iowa State, West Virginia, George Washington, Southern Methodist and Cincinnati also won major tournament titles Friday night, while North Carolina State and North Carolina set up a humdinger tonight at Raleigh, N. C.

North Carolina State, rolling on a 22-game victory streak and ranked third in the nation, will try to win its sixth straight Dixie Classic at the expense of fourth-ranked North Carolina, which has a 7-0 record this year.

Notre Dame came from behind in the last seven minutes to upset sixth-ranked Utah, 70-65, and become the first team to win the Sugar Bowl championship at New Orleans twice in a row.

Iowa State triumphed 67-56 over Kansas for its first championship in 10 years in the Big Seven Tournament at Kansas City, Mo.

West Virginia took the Orange Bowl championship at Miami, Fla., 78-73.

Globetrotters to Play Hawaiians Here Tonight

The court was set for the appearance tonight of the Harlem Globetrotters unit at Davenport gymnasium, when the Trotters meet the Honolulu Hawaiians in a basketball exhibition starting at eight o'clock.

Probably the best basketball players ever seen in Harrisburg will be on the court for the engagement, including 6-11 Lee Garner, the clever and highly-entertaining Meadow Lemon, the star of both court and screen, Bill "Rookie" Brown, and other names of note.

And another famous name also is scheduled to be on the program although he will not play basketball. He is Tony Lavelli, an all-time great basketball player who is touring with the Globetrotters as an accordionist.

Lavelli and others will furnish high-calibre entertainment during the halftime intermission.

Also included in the tour is Kapilani Miller, "Miss Hawaii of 1954-55."

General admission tickets will be on sale at the door which will open at 6:30 p. m. Although all reserved seats are gone, the gym undoubtedly will accommodate everybody who wants to see the exhibition. Davenport gym is able to seat around 4,200 persons and only about 500 seats are reserved.

The 32-member group of basketball players and entertainers will arrive in Harrisburg about 5 p. m. today and will remain overnight here. They are scheduled to appear in Centralia Jan. 2.

The local sponsors of the event will use the proceeds to finance the summer baseball program for boys here, chiefly to finish up the lighted baseball park nearly completed near the fairgrounds.

General admission price is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.
